EARL B. ROSE IS HELD AT SEATTLE BY FEDERAL MEN

Shanghai Lawyer Wanted Here On Warrant, Arrested On Cabled Charge

EVIDENCE IS MAILED

Local Officials Send Details Of Information And Charges To America

Earl B. Rose, former Shanghai attorney who left here early in March for Japan and boarded the Fushimi Maru in Nagasaki for America, was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Thomas Waters just before the Fushimi docked at Pier B in Seattle on April 8. Pending the arrival of charges, information and evidence from Shanghai, Rose was released on a cash bond of Gold $1,200. The officer who arrested Rose acted on cable information from Shanghai, charging the embezzlement of $7,000 in cotton stock bonds.

After local American authorities had requested Seattle officials to hold Rose, the acting United States District Attorney here, H. D. Rodger, was requested by cable to send complete details of the charges, information and evidence against Rose. A complete statement of the case was sent to Seattle by mail and is due there in a few days. Lacking definite information, Mr. Rodger believes that Rose is still in Seattle on bail while the authorities await news from Shanghai.

In a statement given to the Seattle Times, United States District Attorney Robert C. Saunders said that Rose freely admitted "misapplication of about $7,000 by hypothecation." Rose admitted placing the bonds, which were in his care, in the bank and obtaining money on them, Saunders said.

Mrs. Rose, who with their children, accompanied Rose to Seattle from Nagasaki, told government officials that there had been much sickness in the family recently and that they had heavy expenses, according to the Seattle Times. Rose declined to talk except to the United States attorney and deputy marshals.

The former Shanghai attorney appeared before United States Commissioner R. W. McClelland for a hearing on the morning of April 11 and American authorities here believe that the Commissioner decided to await the details sent from here.

Whether Rose will be brought to trial on the charges is an open question, according to the Seattle newspaper accounts, which continue to say that Federal officials are of the opinion that the charges will be dropped if the money alleged to have been misappropriated is returned. In case of trial Rose would be brought back to China. Report of the arrest and details have been sent to the United States attorney general by the Federal officials at Seattle.

BENSON ACCUSED OF WORKING FOR VESSEL OWNERS

Striking Marine Workers Ask Congress To Act—Nanking To Sail

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, May 10.—Renewed efforts are being made to settle the strike of marine workers, and Mr. Davis, Secretary of Labor, is conferring with the engineers.

Allegations that the Government, through Admiral Benson (Chairman of the Shipping Board), is shouldering the fight of the shipowners against the unions have been made to members of Congress by the spokesman of the Marine Engineers' Association, who asked Congress to take action in the matter.

Mobile, May 10.—The Mobile branch of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association has voted in favor of the settlement of the wage controversy. Advices from Galveston and Pensacola state that the engineers there also favored a settlement.

San Francisco, May 10.—The China Mail Steamer Company has signed with the striking unions a year's contract at the old wages, and the company's crews have been ordered to report. The s.s. Nanking is due to leave on Thursday. Owing to the conditions on the water front as the result of the strike, all vacations for the police have been cancelled until the strike is settled.

White Collar Men To Help Cunard Co. Break Ship Strike

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 12.—The office staff of the Cunard line in Liverpool, including the managers and directors, have taken the dramatic step of volunteering to act as substitutes for the ships' stewards and others who are on strike. Three hundred of them have signed on for the Aquitania, which sails for New York on Saturday. It is noteworthy that directors and managers will sail on the same footing as the clerks, donning the blue uniform and performing the same duties.

London, May 12.—Despite the blockade which the transport-workers have sought to establish, the Government are importing coal freely and are moving it about the country. Imports are coming from France, Belgium and America, and it is estimated that America alone is sending 100,000 tons.

It is declared that the transport-workers are divided among themselves, and that if matters are pushed to a sympathetic strike half of the union's members will not obey.

Twenty more employees of the Caledonian Railway have been dismissed for refusing to handle coal traffic, and a Scottish railway strike is being threatened.

Meanwhile one result of the coal strike is that oil fuel is making very wide headway. It is stated that industries and public services will never again be wholly dependent on coal. Thousands of works and factories are being equipped for oil burning, and the consumption of fuel oil by London's electric railways will begin today.

PASSERI DROPS CLAIM FOR WORK IN GERMAN BANK

Huge Sum Asked For Liquidation Handed To Government

WAS HELD TWO YEARS

Tls. 178,000 And $24,000 Involved; Settlement Understood

The sums of Tls. 178,617.36 and $24,593.19—the amount of a judgment given in favor of Mr. G. Passeri as remuneration for his services as liquidator of the Deutsch Asiatische Bank—after remaining for over two years in the custody of the Mixed Court was yesterday ordered handed over to counsel for the bank Bureau of Liquidation, Mr. Passeri, by attorney, withdrawing the case from Court.

It is understood that the matter has been settled in Peking.

Refusal of the Magistrate to endorse the Assessor's ruling for paying over the money was the cause of its being held up in court after lengthy and somewhat sensational litigation, and the session of yesterday, which apparently brings the matter to a close, was not without its touch of controversy, counsel for the plaintiff raising the point of authority by which the claim was withdrawn.

The Passeri case came up in December 1918 following the liquidator's dismissal and he brought claim for 4 percent on all accounts liquidated and a suit for damages for alleged wrongful dismissal. The case was heard by Italian Assessor Ros and Magistrate Yui. On December 21, 1918 the court ruled that he was entitled to 4 percent on all sums collected or brought to credit and compensation on cases brought to file in the Mixed Court was fixed at the round sum of Tls. 50,000. After judgment had been given the Bureau of Liquidation filed an appeal and on December 31 the sums of Tls. 178,617.36 and $24,593.19 were ordered handed over to the plaintiff by Assessor Ros, who denied the appeal. Magistrate Yui dissented, ruling that the appeal should be granted and that the money should remain in the hands of the court, into which it had been paid. Inspector Wheeler refused to pay out the money in view of the split judgment. On January 15, 1919 Mr. G. H. Wright, appearing for Mr. Passeri, applied that the Court direct what remuneration by way of commission or percentage, or otherwise, should be paid his client as liquidator, but no decision was given and there the matter has rested, locally, until the present.

Yesterday Mr. G. D. Musso and Mr. R. F. C. Master appeared representing the Bureau of Liquidation for the bank and Mr. Bertes appeared as holding power of attorney for Mr. Passeri. Mr. A. C. Holborow appeared for the plaintiff. When the case was called before Italian Assessor Ferrajolo and Magistrate Yui, Mr. Musso stated that a representative of the plaintiff wished to make an application.

Mr. Bertes then said that he wished to ask leave to withdraw the case on behalf of Mr. Passeri and that the money be paid to the Bureau of Liquidation of the Deutsch Asiatische Bank.

Mr. Holborow was not present when the proceedings began and Inspector Shaw asked that the

Gas And Electric Workers Balk At "Blackleg" Imports

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—Nine men in the employ of the Caledonian Railway have been suspended for refusing to work a coal train.

London, May 11.—A meeting of the executive of the Transport Workers' Federation today arranged a joint conference with the railwaymen's executive on Friday in order to consider steps for further tightening the boycott on seaborne coal.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Secretary of the Transport-workers' Federation, Mr. Robert Williams, who is regarded as an extremist, stated that the situation at present was much more critical than it was three weeks ago. He said that delegates from the gas and electrical unions had reported to the Transport-workers' Executive that their members were refusing to handle coal discharged by blackleg labor, and no distinction was being made as regards supplies from overseas.

Mr. Macquisten also asked the Government to consult with banks established in London with branches overseas before committing itself, in order to avoid heavy losses to merchants and the Government.

The Unexpurgated Diary Of A Shanghai Baby

By Elsie McCormick

MAY eighth—Not much doing today. Had pleasant time upstairs while family went for ride in car, watching houseboy take shave with papa's new safety razor. Later saw him put on some of mama's Mary Garden perfume. Perfume had hard fight with garlic. Garlic won. Will try to keep an eye on my talcum powder.

MAY eighth—Family came home later and mama said she didn't see why we couldn't have car too, as she was tired paying coppers in tram and having them handed back because of wrong pictures. "If you'd just say 'season,' you wouldn't have to pay any coppers," said papa. "Nobody who knows the ropes pays to ride in a tram in this city." Mama said that if papa was the right sort, he would buy her a car. Papa answered that if he did it would have to be cheap one without a self-starter, and he had trouble enough already cranking up the telephone.

MAY eighth—later—Sat on floor with wooden elephant while family ate tiffin. Surprised to hear papa say that trains during war were protected by amah. Didn't know she traveled.

MAY ninth—Went out to Hongkew Park and saw fresh Jap baby wearing white apron on top of kimono and little flat red hat on head. Silly get-up. Jap family excited because baby could step alone. Awfully stuck on itself. Have decided not to throw wooden elephant, as didn't know Jap baby could walk.

MAY ninth—Papa came home for tiffin and mama told him about new sweater which Aunt at home had sent her.

"It would be nice to have Aunt Mary come out to visit us," said mama.

"I don't think she would like the Soochow bath-tubs," said papa with unhappy look. "Nobody but a cobra could be comfortable in one."

"I had no intention of asking her to sleep in a Soochow bath-tub," said mama, giving papa quick expression. "If she was your aunt, you'd want to give her the best room, but just because she's mine you don't care what becomes of her."

Papa said that there are ants enough around in the summer-time eating up the provisions, without sending for another from America.

MAY ninth—Had busy time later chinning self on side of pen. Will walk soon if lucky. Afterwards went upstairs for nap and saw new coolie mopping floor with mama's sweater fastened to end of broomstick. Pleasant afternoon.

MAY tenth—Nice day. Mama has taught amah to put funny glass thing in my mouth and then read what it says. Told amah she must cook it first. Amah cooks it, then tastes it to see if it is all right before giving it to me. Can't find any sense in stunt, but then have stopped expecting much of family.

MAY eleventh—Family had busy time today talking about place to go for summer. Papa said he would like to go somewhere where there is good hunting. Mama answered that he could find that in any resort and he wouldn't have to go out of his room, either.

Papa said later that he hoped to find place where shoes were something to put on feet and not ground for green vegetable garden.

"Why not ask our friends about good places?" asked mama.

"We might try it, but I've noticed that people are always strongest for the resorts they haven't visited," papa answered.

Rather looks at present as if family is going to Tsingtao. Hope so, as might find Jap babies there that haven't learned to walk. Have decided to save wooden elephant.

MAY twelfth—Papa said that tomorrow would be Friday the thirteenth and Auntie asked him if he was superstitious.

"Yes," said papa, "I always used to hate to get thirteen days in jail for speeding and I never do like to pay bills that fall due on Friday."

Auntie said she didn't wish anybody any bad luck, but that she hoped girl from Frenchtown would fall down at tea dance and sprain her costume.

MAY twelfth—Porch covered with woolen things being aired for summer. Mama said she was going to put them in moth-proof bag. Papa said that amah-proof box would be more to point. Wish there was such a thing as amah-proof baby.

INSURGENTS IN POLAND GIVE ALLIES NEW WORRY

Rebels Number 60,000 And Are "Branching Out"

COUNCIL'S SPLIT

Connivance Of French Starts Talk Of Commission Dissension

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—It is authoritatively stated in London that the Polish insurgents in Upper Silesia number 60,000. Besides the Pless and Rybnik districts, they have established themselves at Lubnitz and Rosenberg.

The report that a German force of some thousands, including deserters from the Reichswehr, is assembling near Rosenberg is regarded as a serious development. It is recognised that the Germans have hitherto shown the greatest self-restraint, but the good impression which their attitude has made in authoritative British circles will be neutralised by any attempt on their part to appeal to force.

A most serious view is taken of the attitude of the Warsaw Government and recent happenings have strengthened the conviction that the extreme gravity of the position is but imperfectly appreciated in the Polish capital.

Another serious feature of the Upper Silesian revolt is the possibility of Allied differences arising. There is little doubt that Korfanty's adventure was planned and carried out under the blessing of, if not in connivance with, the Polish Government, who were disappointed with the result of the plebiscite, and feared a partition which would give Germany a fair share of the coalfields.

There is already talk of resignations on the part of the Italian and British members of the Plebiscite Commission, owing to the attitude of the French troops, who received the insurgents in friendly fashion, and left the Italians and British to bear the whole brunt of dealing with the situation.

Rotary Tiffin And Voyage On Whangpoo Given For Men From Puget Sound

Members of the commercial mission from the Pacific Northwest which carried greetings from America to business interests in China were scheduled to sail at 5 o'clock this morning on the steamer Wenatchee which is on its maiden voyage to the Far East as the first of the Admiral Line's new fleet of five trans-Pacific passenger carriers.

A number of brief addresses followed and among those of the visiting party who spoke were Messrs. Charles Hill, R. D. Emerson, Charles F. Seeger, H. F. Compton, George Stroble and James Q. Clemmer.

One of the noteworthy events of the party's visit to Shanghai was an excursion on the Whangpoo aboard a Dollar boat in the afternoon when the visitors were guests of Capt. Robert Dollar, who is one of the party, and Mr. J. Harold Dollar. The excursion went up river affording the sight-

JAPS PREPARING TO TIGHTEN GRIP ON SAGHALIEN

Plan To Alter Course Of River, And To Build New Town

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, May 1.—The following information regarding conditions prevailing in the island of Saghalien is the gist of an interview with a group of Russian traders just arrived from there.

There is no Russian authority on the island of Saghalien. At Alexandrovsk there is a Council, presided over by a mining engineer, named Olshevsky, which more or less takes the place of the Municipal Council. This council serves as the intermediary between the Japanese Command and the Russian population, but as the council is composed of people acceptable to the Japanese Command and not to the Russian population, the attitude of the latter towards it is of a negative character.

The former Russian Government institutions, such as the posts and telegraphs, customs, militia, police courts, etc., have disbanded and their officers no longer function. The heads of these departments receive Y. 75 to Y. 125 a month from the Japanese Command. These individuals, called by the Japanese "counsellors," do absolutely nothing. Communications with the mainland are interrupted.

In Alexandrovsk there are three Russian militiamen who work under the direct orders of the Japanese gendarmerie.

There is about one division of Japanese troops in Russian Saghalien, part of which will be sent to Nikolaievsk when communications with that town re-open. Most of the troops are in Alexandrovsk and the remainder scattered about the villages.

Relations between the Japanese soldiers and the Russian population have latterly been more or less normal, if one discounts trifling thefts of domestic fowls indulged in by the former; but previously there were frequent cases of violence, especially in villages where there were no officers.

As early as the autumn of last year the Japanese started making a railroad from Alexandrovsk to Onora to establish communication with Japanese Saghalien. The work is being done by Japanese workmen specially brought from Japan, and the Russians are only employed to attend to horse haulage. In the winter the Russians got remunerative employment in carting stores to Rikovsk, Timovo, etc.

This summer the Japanese intend to set to work and alter the course of the river Alexandrovka, and after levelling the present course of the river construct on it the future town. As trade with Saghalien is free of duty, many Japanese shops have opened and are dealing chiefly in rice, flour, manufactured goods and other Japanese products, but at the same time Russian trade exists and meets with no opposition on the part of the Japanese authorities. Trading is done exclusively in Yen, and no Russian money is in circulation.

Life in the occupied district is regulated by the so-called Japanese administrative department and their gendarmerie. The latter maintains order amongst both Japanese and Russians, enforcing Japanese laws in both cases. There is a Japanese court of justice to which the Russians have recourse at times.

The mineral wealth of the island is also not inviolable, and the Mitsubishi Company has started coal-mining and is making preparations to exploit naphtha in the region of the bay of Chai-vo.

The Bandman Co.

"Afgar" a musical extravaganza received its Far Eastern Premiere at the hands of the Bandman Company at the Olympic last night. It is tuneful, colorful and brimming over with fun and the large audience gave hearty evidence of appreciation from the opening chorus right on to the end.

The cast:

Don Juan, Junior (A Spanish Prisoner) .. Leyland Hodgson
Coucourii (His Squire) Jerry Verno
Houssain (Chief of the Abode of Felicity) .... Dan Mansfield
Dansach (Master of the Gates) ..... Tom Scott
Glafar (Master of the Sherberts) Leonard MacMahon
Afgar ..... Jack Crichton
Isilda (A Spaniard) .. Dora Dolaro
Messauda (A wife of Afgar) Doree Hanbury
Hanifa (A wife of Afgar) Dolly Prince
Zaydee (Favourite Wife of Afgar) .... Madeline Rossiter

To say that "Afgar" is the best thing the Bandmans have done here on this trip is to say a good deal but it is nothing short of the truth. In the first place the show brings out the full strength of the company. Good things fall to all the principals and the company has worked very hard to put the production over in the style such a good framework deserves. Further, Mr. Bandman threw his treasure box wide open in the matter of scenery and costuming. Some of the gowns fairly dazzled.

The play has run so long in London and America that its story probably is pretty well known even out here but for the benefit of those who don't know it we will say that it revolves around a strike of the thirty ladies comprising the harem of Afgar, a Moorish chieftain. Only a dozen or so of the harem were on exhibition last night, the rest having probably escaped from Afgar before he arrived here, but for dancing, singing and good looks the dozen were unquestionably the pick of the bunch, and gave everybody quite enough to look at for one night.

Among the principals the honors easily go to Madeline Rossiter, Dora Dolaro- Leiyand Hodgson, Jerry Verno and Jack Chrichton. Hodgson made a handsome and fiery Don Juan Jr., until the tables were turned on the men, and with his fine voice made the most of the several good songs that came his way. And certainly it is long time since anything has been done out here better than Verno's Mexican song and dance in which he was assisted by the ladies of the harem; while Crichton's Afgar was so amiable an old simp and so easily deceived in matters of the heart that we see no reason why his thirty wives found it necessary to go out on strike.

Miss Rossiter, as Zaydee, favorite wife of Afgar was the Bolshevist of the harem. And why she should have acted the way she did when she was favorite and all, we don't know unless it was because of the arival of Miss Dolaro, as Isilda, a Spanish girl seeking Don Juan Jr., to whom Afgar took a fancy. Anyway Zaydee went and acted that way, turning the whole little home all tepsy-turvy and sovieting all over the place.

The company by the way, pronounces Don Juan in the regular London slang style. Afgar again tonight and we advise you to see and hear it.

If you should ask Woo Sungsing about the outcome of his recent case in the Mixed Court, Woo would doubtless waver in his reply, not being exactly certain whether to register satisfaction or gloom.

It appears from the records that Woo was jouncing along Amoy Road in a ricsha in the early evening with a covered basket braced between his knees, when suddenly seven or eight men rushed the vehicle and grabbed for the luggage. Woo emitted a Matterhorn yodel as preliminary and then engaged in a frantic struggle with the man who had the best hold on the ball of the basket, working in a yelp for police assistance at split-second intervals. This was so effective that almost presently there was on hand a Chinese constable. The policeman gathered in the two of the attacking party who were most reluctant to relinquish their grips on Woo's property and after getting them into a submissive mood took them and Woo to the station.

When Woo had graphically narrated the story of the outrage and the two—who gave the names Lieu Sing-kwei and Lieu Ah-pau—had been formally enrolled on the station register, the sergeant asked Woo what it was that he carried in the basket.

Woo grinned deprecatingly, made an ambiguous gesture—edging toward the door with the basket meanwhile—and stated that it contained nothing of importance. The sergeant insisted on details. Really, Woo apologised,—still working toward the exit—the stuff was hardly worth the row that he had made about it; as a matter of fact he was only carrying home a few pans and pots as a surprise for the cook. At this one of the prisoners behind the rail snorted violently and the other made a remark tending to disqualify Woo for membership in the boy scouts on the veracity test. A Chinese detective who had been hovering unobtrusively in the background put his foot against the door and the sergeant took away the basket, stripped off the lid and extracted four large chunks of opium, which he roughly appraised at about $250.

In court the victim of the attack omitted mention of the joke he had intended playing on the cook.

"My mother is sick," explained Woo, who evidently has no faith in homeopathic doses, "And I was taking the opium home to her."

The Lieus took an aggrieved stand.

The first said he had just finished supper and was on his way home to bed when he heard fighting and went over to see what the battle was about, arriving just in time to give the policeman a chance to make a mistake.

The other made plaint to the effect that he had been seeing a friend off at the railway station and was returning to his family when he saw a man being set upon by a crowd of thugs. Hastening up to render assistance, he had been misguidedly collared by the policeman, while the real malefactors nimbly skipped.

A short while later the Lieu duo set out in a closed carriage for Ward Road to spend three months. And Woo's $250 worth of dreams was ordered into storage.

HOTEL RATES

Being asleep on the box of his carriage as it stood at the curb on Yangtszepoo Road was the charge which Mafoo Ng Ah-zai stepped into the dock to deny.

A constable had previously paid tribute to Ng's snoring propensities and described the difficulties encountered in getting him to resume the reins.

"I wasn't asleep," protested Ng. "There was a high wind and a lot of dust and I had my eyes closed. The policeman made an excusable mistake."

The Court endorsed the constable's diagnosis to the extent of $6.

The Waring Company

"Sherlock Holmes" is one of the very few characters of present day literature that is universal in its appeal. It is one of the characters that compares in its popularity with a "Falstaff," with a "Tony," or with a "Pickwick." Everyone has heard of Sherlock Holmes, and perhaps that is one of the reasons why the Lyceum Theater was packed last night, when the Waring Company produced "The Speckled Band," which has, as its principal character, the great detective. But equal in appeal is also the general excellence of the Warings, who night after night, are not only presenting fresh plays, but are also acting them better than we have seen plays acted anywhere outside London or New York.

The part of "Sherlock Holmes" was played by Charles Quartermaine in his usual masterful manner. He got well into the part, and at all times held the audience in his grip. But Sherlock is a wonderful chap, and so is Quartermaine.

Christian Morrow put most of the light comedy stuff into the piece and again demonstrated that he is a wonderful little comedian.

The "Doctor Watson" of Mr. Frederick Annerley followed the conventional lines and proved very effective. Mr. Wordley Hulse was not in his happiest vein in the part of "Dr. Rylott." That insane laugh of his at the end of the second act was not at all effective; and more so, in that the laugh brought down the curtain. Perhaps the laugh was put in there to give the audience the idea that the "Doctor Rylott" was as mad as the well known hatter.

Quite a convincing portrayal in every way was the "Enid Stonor" of Miss Edith Smith. Taking the part from start to finish it does not give a player many opportunities and yet Miss Smith made it something to be remembered.

Tonight Miss Jeannette Sherwin will have a part after her own heart. She is to play "Lady Ursula." The play is one of the best that has come from the pen of Anthony Hope. It is what is known as a costume play and has a fine plot that cannot but interest, since it combines love interests and old fashioned duals; a fine plot, and some excellent character studies. "The Adventures of Lady Ursula" can be confidently recommended.

AUSTRALIANS PLAY YORKSHIRE, 263 FOR INNINGS

13,000 See Visitors Play; Gregory Puts Up Fine Game

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—A match between the Australians and Yorkshire opened at Bradford today in fine but dull whether, and in the presence of some 13,000 spectators. The Australians, batting first, scored 263, thanks largely to a fine innings by Gregory. He played sound cricket for two hours and a-half, without giving a chance. His score of 104 not out included 17 fours. Rhodes took five of the Australian wickets at a cost of 87 runs. Yorkshire had made 26 for one wicket when stumps were drawn.

It is stated that the injury which Hobbs received recently when batting for Mr. Robinson's eleven against the Australians will prevent him playing in the first test match. He has been ordered by a specialist to take a month's rest.

New Jersey Breaks All World's Records For Oldest Residents

(Reuter's Service)

Marlton, N. J., Apl. 9 (by mail).—Shells declared to be fifteen million years old have been discovered in the marl pits of this town by Prof. John H. Ruckman, Federal geologist and engineer. The discoveries, it is said, give Marlton the greatest range of such specimens in the world, extending from the period when shellfish represented the only animate life until the epoch which probably directly preceded the appearance of man.

Giant lizards and huge animals long extinct are among the specimens which have been unearthed from marl deposits in this district. The most recent discoveries of Prof. Ruckman, it is said, upset the calculations of the age of the Marl deposits in New Jersey and are believed to be the oldest remains of prehistoric life on earth.

matter be delayed a little as the hour for which the case was set had not quite arrived. Mr. Musso agreed and in asking that the money be paid over said that there was also the question of interest, but supposed he would have to file a motion and give notice.

When Mr. Holborow appeared Mr. Musso explained that Mr. Bertes held Mr. Passeri's power of attorney.

"If he is offering the money in court," Mr. Holborow said, "I would like to say that out firm is representing Mr. Passeri in the matter and I must have further notice of the power of attorney and what the application is for. I have only received a letter from Mr. Passeri about these funds."

"Mr. Passeri does not wish to be further represented by counsel," said Mr. Musso. "The power of attorney is in the hands of the Italian Consulate and you have no further interest in the matter. The application is that the case be withdrawn and the money paid the government. A person is not bound to keep his counsel. He may dispense with the services of counsel any time he wishes."

"May I suggest," interposed Mr. Holborow, "that we have represented Mr. Passeri as late as September last. No order should be made until we have communicated with him and asked if he has ordered the funds to be paid out. We are representing him in the case."

"No longer," declared Mr. Musso.

"I do not see how you are representing Mr. Passeri," stated the Assessor, "now that he has given power of attorney over."

"If Mr. Passeri has given notice to the registrar that he has dispensed with the services of counsel that is sufficient for you, Mr. Holborow," said Mr. Musso. "It does not concern you any longer."

"I was bound to appear in the interests of Mr. Passeri," Mr. Holborow stated to the Court. "If the Court is satisfied that our services are dispensed with and that this order is from Mr. Passeri, then I have nothing further to say, but I was bound to make this statement in our interests."

The Court's ruling was as follows:

"Plaintiff's attorney asks for leave to withdraw the case from Court. Leave is granted. The money paid in Court shall forthwith be paid over to Mr. G. D. Musso as counsel for the Bureau of Liquidation of the Deutsch Asiatische Bank. The question of interest is reserved. Motion to be filed by counsel for the Bureau of Liquidation."

Former Servants Of Czar Hindering F. Eastern Republic

(Dalta News Agency)

Harbin, May 6 (By Mail.)—In Harbin the Chinese authorities have engaged for Police work some of the Russian Gendarmes who were formerly in the service of the Czar and all of these men are creatures of Semenoff. During the last few days a campaign has been started by these people against Russian Democracy in this area. They have arrested several persons, among whom is the Editor of the newspaper Forward Mr. Hait, and two clerks of the Far Eastern Republic, Mr. Parphenoff and Mr. Voldemarski. These two persons were traveling from Chita to Peking with passports vised by the Chinese authorities. With them was arrested Mr. Izkovich, a merchant, who was a refugee from Siberia. The gendarmes accused Mr. Izkovich of being a Commissar from Chita, and they also declared that Mr. Parphenoff and Mr. Voldemarski were Commissars. Of course, this is absurd as there are no Commissars in Chita. The Chinese authorities in Harbin were, for some reason, slack about this matter, and did not investigate too closely the action of these gendarmes of Semenoff's, who also accused the men arrested of having in their possession apparatus for the counterfeiting of notes of the Bank of China, but the gendarmes had previously, for their own purposes, placed this incriminating evidence where they could find it later.

Soviet Publishes Concession Edicts

Moscow, May 9.—The People's Commissars Council has issued the following two regulations governing the signing of agreements of concessions granted to foreign individuals or foreign concerns: 1. The agreements must first be signed by the People's Commissars concerned or their representatives. They must then be submitted to the council of People's Commissars for consideration. 2. After confirmation by this council the agreements should be signed again by the Commissars concerned and the Commissars for Foreign Affairs on behalf of the Russian Soviet Republic. After the second signature has been effected the agreements will become active.

Tariff Bill, Carries In Commons, 236-27

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—In the House of Commons today, the first of the fiscal resolutions, providing for a Customs duty of 33-1/3 percent of the value of certain specified articles, was carried by 236 votes to 72. The House then proceeded to debate the second resolution, dealing with dumping and trade with countries with depreciated exchange.

London, May 12.—The second of the fiscal resolutions, which deals with dumping, has been carried by the House of Commons by 118 votes to 37, the debate continuing until 5 o'clock this morning.

Critics endeavored to secure exemption as regards articles manufactured in the Dominions and Colonies.

The Director of Overseas Trade, Sir Philip Lloyd-Graeme, emphasised the fact that the Empire was not being neglected, and pointed out that the Key Industries Bill would not only give such articles Imperial preference but also exclude them from all duty.

With regard to these manufactures within the Empire, it was impossible to make exceptions as regards dumping because, in that case, the United States could then dump through Canada. Every Dominion which has passed anti-dumping legislation had followed the lines proposed in the resolution.

Accompanying the visitors on the river excursion were Mr. Julean Arnold, American Commercial Attache, Capt. W. I. Eisler, representing the American Shipping Board in the Far East and Dr. Frederic Lee, American Economist Consul.

Those of the party sailing on the Wenatchee today are Capt. James S. Gibson and Messrs. Chester Thorne, H. C. Henry, Henry G. Shaw, Roy O. Hadley, E. C. Richards, Charles E. Hill, Charles F. Captain Robert Dollar of the party is remaining in Shanghai.

Japs Interfering At Fishing Grounds

(Dalta News Agency)

Vladivostok, May 5.—The Japanese Command continues to interfere with the daily life of the people of the Maritime Province. They stopped the trains with laborers who were enroute from Vladivostok to Russia, and refused to allow them to proceed. The laborers were in a very bad condition owing to this. The Vladivostok Government has sent to their relief the sum of Ten Thousand Gold Roubles. This was at the station of Evgenievka and the trains were detained there for three whole weeks. They are also holding up trains with goods on the Ussuri Railway. The Maritime Administration has repeatedly protested at this treatment but without any result.

CHITA ACCUSES PEKING OF MANY UNFRIENDLY ACTS

Resolution Says Chinese Officials Aided Enemies Of F. E. Republic

(Dalta News Agency)

Chita, April 28 (by mail).—At the last meeting of the Constituent Assembly was passed the following resolution. It was passed unanimously, and applies to the to the Chinese Government: "In the beginning of the work of bunding up the young Far Eastern Republic, the Constitutional Assembly, which represents the whole population, appealed to their neighbors, the Chinese people, with their hearts full of fraternal feeling, and with expressions of true brotherly sentiment, in order to further relations of mutual understanding and respect between the two great nations.

Now that the work of building up the Far Eastern Republic is progressing we bring to your attention, with deepest regret, the many cases of sad misunderstanding which have occurred in different parts of Chinese Territory, and have to be considered as impediments which block the way of the friendly relations between these two peoples. The clearest cases in this matter are the arrest and detention of three of the steamers belonging to the Far Eastern Republic—of the Russian Volunteer Fleet—in Shanghai, the arresting and private sale in Manchuria of many millions worth of foodstuffs, also of Technical Supplies, all belonging to the Far Eastern Republic.

In spite of many warnings by the Government of the Far Eastern Republic, and its representative in Peking, the Chinese authorities permit the passing of Semonoff's military trains. The attempt to close the Russian Custom House at the stations Manchuria and Pogranichniya. The arrest in Harbin of the Editor of the newspaper "Forward," and of Mr. Parphenoff, the Chairman of the Committee to audit the property of the Far Eastern Republic on the Chinese Eastern Railway, and of the other persons who enjoyed the trust of the Far Eastern Republic. And this at a time when the well known enemies of the Far Eastern Republic, i.e. the Reactionaries, are organising to become a menace to China as well, as shown by the actions of Ungern. They organise unmolested and in the different parts of Chinese Territory, and openly attack the representatives of the Far Eastern Republic. Seeing from all these actions, which damage the prosperity of the Far Eastern Republic, and its population, and the personal property of its citizens, and decreases the sovereignity of the Far Eastern Republic, the Constituent Assembly expresses the hope that the Chinese people and their Government will take measures to prevent the recurrence of similar misunderstandings, and expresses its full confidence, that, with the mutual open well-wishing between the two countries, there will be no repetition of these occurrences.

Flurry In Francs And Marks Feature Exchange Dealings

The following is the Asia Banking Corporation report on the exchange fluctuations for Thusday, May 12:

Spot bar silver was down 1/2d and forward 1/4d in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 60½ cents and the London New York cross rate is unchanged at 399.

The official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday with the exception of the Franc rate which was dropped to 770. The tone of the market throughout the day was easy, business in Sterling being done between 3 3½ and 3 3¾, and in gold dollars between 6¼ and 66¾. At the close there were sellers of Sterling at 3 3¾ and good buyers at 3 3⅞.

The feature of the market today was the demand for Francs and marks. Comparatively large business was done in Francs at rates varying between 750 and 770. The drop in silver in London yesterday was caused by the continent selling. Advices received from New York are two days late and it is stated that on the 10th inst. there were sellers rather than buyers at the official quotation. There does not seem to be much strength in the general silver market at present, exports here being practically negligible so that in case of any firming up of rates, banks would no doubt be good buyers.

Suspect New Ruse For Entering Houses

A variant of the "meter inspector" ruse which was recently used to accomplish a number of thefts from houses in the Western district has come to the attention of the police.

On Wednesday forenoon a Chinese called at the back door of a foreign residence in Bubbling Well and informed one of the servants that he had called to repair a typewriter. The servant escorted the caller to his mistress. There being no typewriter in the household inventory the lady suspected something. She inquired what make of machine he was to repair.

The visitor replied that it was "Lemington," which appeared to be the limit of his working knowledge of English and when told that there was no typewriter he beat a hasty retreat.

The pseudo-repair man is described as about 5 feet 4 in heigh, age between 25 and 30 years, of spare build and wearing a long black gown.

ATHLETES FOR CHINA TEAM TO BE SELECTED MAY 21, WHEN ENTRIES FOR MEET CLOSE

Final Choices To Be Made Here; Arrangements Nearly Completed For Big Games Starting At Hongkew Park May 30; Gray Tells Of Work

Final selection of athletes to represent China at the coming Far Eastern Championship Games will be made here on Saturday, May 21, the closing day for entries, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. John H. Gray, who is in charge of the games.

On the same day entries will close for the open international track and field events and foreigners and Chinese are urged to note the date.

The Philippines team will leave Manila on May 20 on the Bustamente, a cable ship.

Practically all arrangements are completed for the most ambitious series of athletic events in the history of the Far East and in a long statement issued yesterday Dr. Gray tells of what has been done. It follows:

The uniforms for the China team in track and field will be a white sleeveless shirt and white running pants. Athletes or their sectional organisations will be asked to supply their own uniforms. This will include running shoes. The Contest Committee will supply the national emblem on arrival in Shanghai to each athlete. Athletes will be permitted to wear their college or club colors in the form of a narrow strip of ribbon along the outside seam of their running pants.

REDUCED RAILWAY FARES

The Ministry of Communications at Peking has been good enough to grant reduced railway fares to athletes and officials travelling to Shanghai. This will consist of a single fare for return journey. It will be necessary for athletes to secure from the Contest Committee Secretary a signed certificate indicating that he is a bona fide athlete or official, the certificate then to be presented to the railway station master in order to enable him to secure the reduced rate. The railways are also offering special inducements to visitors coming to see the games, and posters will be found in railway stations indicating how information of this sort can be secured. It is therefore necessary that the names of the athletes who are to compete be in the hands of the Contest Secretary at the earliest possible moment to enable him to distribute the signed certificates for reduced railway fares. Coaches and members of the selecting committee are asked particularly to keep this in mind.

ADMISSION TO THE GROUNDS

Admission to the grounds for Chinese will be by ticket which must be secured through the Contest Committee or through the Chinese Y. M. C. A., 120 Szechuen Road. The organisation is kindly assuming the responsibility for the sale and distribution of same.

Subscriber's family tickets, entitling a man and his immediate family admission to the grounds and to any stand	$100
Season tickets, entitling holder to all performances in any stand	$10
Books of 10 tickets, each ticket admitting one person to one stand once ..	$1
Admission to grandstand ..	$1
Admission to bleachers ...	$0.50
Special rates to students on application.

SWIMMING

General admission	50 cents
Reserved seats*	$1.00

*Seats limited to 750.

The stands will consist of a grand stand for the track and field, to accommodate approximately 3,000; bleachers for track and field, to accommodate from 3,000 to 5,000; stand for baseball games, to accommodate 1,000.

Schools or groups of people desiring to attend the games as a group can secure tickets en bloc in advance, and are advised to do so to avoid difficulties of securing same at arrival at grounds.

HOUSING ACCOMMODATION

The Committee has concluded arrangements with the Y. P. S. Hotel, 3 Thibet Road, for housing of athletes and officials. All athletes and officials must report immediately upon arrival in Shanghai to the Contest Committee Office, 20 Museum Road, when they will be assigned to the hotel. Further instructions will be issued at the time.

Visitors coming to Shanghai must make their own arrangements. The Contest Committee will have no reserved space other than that needed for the athletes and officials. The athletes and officials who can visit with friends in Shanghai under suitable conditions and within reach of the coaches are urged to do so to save the expense of hotel, etc., while in Shanghai.

RUBBER CHINSTRAP IS NOTHING NEW

Roughtown Champ Once Battled Entire Gutta Percha Opponent

BY 'BUGS' BAER

Now they're chanting about Ted Lewis wearing an Ostermoor mattress in his store teeth. Ted and Jack Britton have battled twenty times. But they're not through yet as the suburban edition of the Scriptures states that man's allotment on this earth is three-score and ten.

Having large and acclimated experience in biting off nutritious left jabs and counting the calories in right hooks Ted decided to battle Jack with a make-up. So he went into his last fight equipped F. O. B. with shock absorbers, pneumatic toupee and inflated jowls. The idea being that all punches would roll off his complexion like an "H" in the House of Commons.

Ted was accessoried up like a flivver with spare parts. His only chance of being hurt was if his Traveler's Insurance started backfiring on him. But Britton had a frolic with Ted in comparison to the matinee Gink Fowler put on with Zig Waffle.

All of Gink's matches were made by mail through the Roughtown Matrimonial Bureau. They used to get a Maine clamdigger on the hook, put the soothing syrup on him and the silkworms would start to work. The Maine guy would come out to Roughtown figuring on marrying a lazy widow spangled with millions and so wealthy that she wore hairpins all the year round. When the oyster-cracker got out to Roughtown he would discover that the lazy dowager was Gink Fowler. They'd take the shrimp trapper's rake and hoe away from him and put him in the ring with Gink, who would promptly switch around the green, pink and purple pins on his battlenaps and knock Mr. Clamdigger for a trip around the world with Burton Holmes.

This scheme of getting opponents for Gink worked very healthy until Zig Waffle got up the missing line to the bobtailed limerick and enclosed a cancelled stamp for reply. Zig figured on becoming the husband of one of Roughtown's leading waitresses. But when he got there he saw that he would have to take his drink out of the oil can. Zig had been bitten by a fox in his infancy and knew that two and two made four in any league. His regular job was India Rubber Man in Burnem and Bawlem's Circus.

Until Zig climbed into the ring, Gink and his playmates thought the fight was already filed away in the imperishable archives of Roughtown. But when Gink landed a spank on Zig's chest, the blow came back and bounced off Gink's jaw. It sounded like a pumpkin being punished with a shed slat. Zig had no defence. You could hit him with anything. But it always came back with accrued, compound and enthusiastic interest. Fighting was sugar in Zig's coffee.

The more the bird soaked him, the more he liked the nourishment. Gink soon discovered that he was battling an India Rubber Man and that he was getting a receipt for every punch. They'd have been fighting yet, if Gink hadn't doped the rebus. He stopped the fight, put non-skid chains on his knuckles and ran Zig up into a 20,000 mileage record. The fight lasted two hours, but the climax justified the accusation. The Roughtown Board of Graft impeached Gink for annoying the overseers of whisker plantations, but Gink showed that science could overcome brute strength provided you put in enough raisins and yeast cakes.

He was still champion.

Arrival Of Huron Today May Mean Real Game For Sunday Afternoon Here

Flagship Has Crack Baseball Team And Shanghai May Change Week-End Arrangements; Elcano Nine Attraction For Tomorrow

Although baseball games have been tentatively arranged for tomorrow and Sunday between Shanghai and sailor teams, the arrival in port this morning of the U.S.S. Huron may mean that the crack team from the flagship will play against the civilians Sunday afternoon.

The Elcano nine is the attraction billed for tomorrow while a combined Monocacy-Palos aggregation is scheduled for Sunday. The latter combination would not be any too strong, and the fans are anxious to see the crack Huron team against Shanghai on the Sabbath.

Perhaps Johnny Knowlan and Major Ross, the Club matchmakers, could arrange to have the Palos, Monocacy and Elcano combine to put a strong team in the field tomorrow and thus leave the Sunday date for the men from Admiral Strauss' private yacht. The Huron team comes here after a good record in the Philippines.

Good weather yesterday and promise of sunshine this afternoon will give the locals opportunity to unloose a few kinks encouraged by the cold wetness of the past few weeks. Brad Crow hopes to have an infield practice this afternoon and will probably play Hopkins on first; Bills at short and Maloney on third. Crow will take second. Either Smith or Glauque will catch tomorrow as Hoag is still nursing an injured digit.

All candidates are urged to be on deck this afternoon as soon after five as possible in order that a long session may be held Signals will be given out today as the team is figuring on its first real workout of the year against the Huron.

Fair weather Sunday will mean a gathering of the camp followers for the stands will be up and straw hats, georgette and white flannels may be in order.

Kiangwan Meeting To Open Tomorrow

Two days of racing, opening tomorrow and continuing Monday, are to be provided for the 77th meeting of the International Recreation Club. The usual transportation services by special trains and automobiles from the Central Garage will be available.

BAR BOYS GET DECISION AND MR. JACK DROPS TWICE SO CONSTANT IS WINNER

Le Brasseur Has Little Chance To Show Real Stuff For Australian Is Too Mysterious; One-Bout Program Has Gink Fowler Ear Marks Plus

BY KING KELLY

A Roughtown 'rasslin' match such as might cause Bugs Baer's typewriter to shudder was staged at the Victoria Theater last night. Mysterious Mr. Jack, the "well known Australian Wrestler" was discovered before the bout was many minutes old, and before the contest was lost he was even exposed.

Constant le Brasseur, the champion de Lutte d'Europe annexed Shanghai, and maybe Australia before the final fall was counted. Territory, size, space, weight and everything else of proportion were as nothing to him. He was the winner Constant.

There was 55 full minutes of regular 'rasslin' before the No. 1 boy came out and said "finish." Half of these was given to petting, and fiddling, and fondling afoot. The other 27½ were spent on the floor. The men were gluttons for the canvas—it was a comfortable place for rest.

Gink Fowler would have been in his glory in the Victoria ring last night. The reputation of Roughtown might have been given a boost as high as the unbuilt dome of the Municipal Administration building. There might have been some leap-frogging out of the ring and homeward.

The entertainment started with the announcement that the Municipal Council had prohibited the boxing and wrestling preliminaries as advertised. Cries of "Money Back" voiced the unanimous approval of the generous 'rasslin' fans. They were given a keen zest and an open mind for the championship of Roughtown-on-the-Whangpoo match.

CH. GINK'S SOME BON

When the men came out, it was easy to pick Gink . . . He was trained, and fit as a fiddling fiddler. Mr. Jack, however, and on the other hand, presented an appearance more mysterious even than when unseen. He had Fatty Arbuckle panting in the backstretch of a two furlong race. Folks began to wonder how he had ascended the six steps of the stage entrance. In short he weighed some several hundred pounds.

The first minutes of the contest saw a careful dodging of trouble. Neither the Champ nor the runner up was taking any chances. Soon they lay down to try it from the bottom side upward. The Frenchman got a hammer lock on the challenger, but the key didn't fit. Jack broke loose. They resumed a standing posture again, like humans, and the mauling was resumed.

There was nothing hard boiled in the handling, each of the other. Many Coney Island ham-and-beaners have wrestled more truly and really for emoluments comprising one large schooner of and a promise. Soon Mr. Jack got a mysterious half Nelson, but when it became time for something to happen Le Brasseur mysteriously got loose and took the same hold himself. The men flopped to the floor when the cue came and Le Brasseur took his turn at a half Nelson, and the escape. It was big league stuff—out of season.

At the 20 minute stage of the proceedings Jack's avoirdupois began to register. Constant was having a hard time of it constantly hauling those hundreds of pounds of mysterious beef over the Axminster rug that served as a mat. But he believed in the old axiom or maxim or whatever it was that Paul Jones used et al.

Many effective holds including the hammer lock, the full Nelson, the half Nelson and the Nelson with arm lock were used in turn on schedule by either and both of the Gladiators. It was an exhibition of wrestling so scientific that many of the open-

CROW'S HANDBOOK FOR CHINA

CHAMPAGNE IS NOT GEOGRAPHICAL, IS COURT'S DECISION

Product Of Vineyards Of Bar-sur-Aube Wins Right To Family Name

CELEBRATION FOLLOWS

Legal Contest Has Revived Old Question Of Origin Of Famous Bubbles

Paris, March 26.—The people of the twenty-one communes of the district of Bar-sur-Aube have just held an impromptu celebration over a decision by the French courts that the wine growers of that district may call the product of their vineyards champagne. The district was once a part of the old Province of Champagne and for fifteen hundred years has grown grapes and made famous wines. However, in later years and up to the time of the decision just handed down by the courts, the name "champagne" could be applied only to wine coming from a small territory in the Department of the Marne, although the sparkling wine of Bar-sur-Aube tasted just as good as that produced by the Marne grape growers.

SANG "MARSEILLAISE"

When the Bar-sur-Aube vineyard owners made a move to call their product champagne, it was bitterly contested by the grape growers of the Marne department. The case was taken into court and fought out there. The decision in favor of Bar-sur-Aube wine was hailed with joy by the people of that district and there were impromptu parades, the singing of the "Marseillaise" and dancing in the streets, while the buildings were brilliantly illuminated and there was a wild outburst of joy, for the decision meant much to the wine industry of the district, since they may now label their wine after the manner of the growers in the Department of the Marne, to whom the making of champagne has been an exclusive prerogative.

In this connection it may be said however, that the decision of the courts of France does not change the home of champagne, since it was in the old province of that name that it was first made—whether by the Evil One, as some pious persons aver, or by a certain Dom Perignon, a monk and the cellarer of the Abbey of Haut Villers, as historians assert, is now a matter of controversy. However, Dom Perignon lived—and drank—about the year 1700, and since his time man's appetite for this choicest wine has increased, along with the price of it. Indeed, the demand for champagne grew until the exclusive privilege which the wine growers of the Department of the Marne possessed to call their product champagne was more than a bank "roll." It was a veritable Bank of France.

NO CELEBRATIONS IN U. S.

The grape growers of Bar-sur-Aube asserted that their product was just as good as that of the vineyard owners of the Marne, and in this they were backed up by many connoisseurs, despite the fact that the Department of the Marne has for years had the reputation of producing the finest wines in the world.

Along with its claim to producing a wine as good as that of the Marne, Bar-sur-Aube referred to the fact that it once was a part of Champagne province; that its vineyards were as large as those of the Marne and that its right to call its product champagne was based on the ancient history of the French wine industry and originated even with Dom Perignon of blessed memory, who knew good wine and loved it. Therefore, if existing laws of France forbade that Bar-sur-Aube wine be called champagne, clearly these laws must be wrong and should be set aside and the essence of pure romance and the grapes of Bar-sur-Aube be placed where it belongs—on a pedestal of equal height and beauty with that of the champagne of the Marne, "the best wine in the world." It is not to be wondered, therefore, that when the French courts decided in favor of the wine growers of Bar-sur-Aube there was great rejoicing in that district.

In the great American Sahara it means little, perhaps, which wine is best—that of the Marne or that of Bar-sur-Aube—and the court fight over this name means even less, but in France, in England and in Spain, where good wine is known—and drunk—the decision means not a little, for the man with a delicate palate will count himself singularly fortunate if, among the wines masquerading as champagne, he never meets with anything worse than that of Bar-sur-Aube.

Bar Boys Victors In Mot Contests

mouthed spectators failed to "see" it. But nuthin' of moment occurred.

THEY FELL FOR THE BAR

The first fall came just when every one was thinking of the bar, and the whiskies and sodas all lined up in the ante room. The wrestlers were very considerate. At 10:30 promptly Le Brasseur got busy—really occupied—just long enough to turn Jack over with a half Nelson for the first fall of the evening. The challenger struggled a bit, as Arbuckle might, but he dropped like clipped hair on the barber shop floor, and he stayed there.

The bar boys were the only consistent performers of the entertainment. When the fans rushed out for their needed stimulant, there it was—in bottles, in glasses and everything. But not for long—A good bracer and they were prepared for the second razzle of rasslin', and the said second razzle was but a triflin' little rattle. There was not much need now to prolong the agony. Rasslin' bouts must be boring in Miami and Butte, just now.

Jack and Le Brasseur came back for the second half as chipper and bold as ever. Jack hadn't lost any weight during the interval.

Five minutes finished what was advertised as a grand contest. A half Nelson again did the trick. There is nothing much to say about it. Le Brasseur simply threw Jack, and he flung him proper, like McCloskey. With the intermission over, and the bar closed there was no need of trying to keep awake any longer.

Referee H. A. Keays proclaimed the second fall, and the spectators, sat, and sat, and waited—no one said it was time to go home. The two "Rustlers" came out and shook hands and bowed as a broad hint to the folks in front to fight to the exits but they waited on in the hope of further entertainment, until a boy near the orchestra leader announced "finish."

volley ball and basket ball have occupied the center of interest.

A group of fourteen of the older girls have formed a leaders class which meets two nights per week to receive training. On the other three nights the smaller girls of the institution have physical training under the direction of these older girls in the leaders class. On these nights the different playgrounds of the school are used to their capacity.

In case of rain the exhibit will be given in the gymnasium adjoining the Eliza Yates compound.

The physical work for young men has been carried on this year by Prof. Burgess of the science department, assisted by Mr. Bartlett, the principal. The school has entered teams in football, basketball and cross country. The track team and baseball team are now hard at work.

London, May 11.—The Cotton Spinners' and Manufacturers' Association have notified their weavers of an intended 30 percent reduction in wages. It made no alternative offer, but stated that it would consult the affiliated organisations, and meet the employers on the 18th inst. It is understood that the employers' full demand will be strongly opposed.

NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL TO OPEN HERE MAY 18TH

Training Expected To Supplant Apprenticing And Reduce Child Labor

The Shanghai Benevolent Industrial Institution, which is building on the site of the old Gun Club, corner of Connaught and Kiaochow Roads, is to have its public opening ceremony and inspection on Wednesday afternoon, the 18th inst.

The need of an industrial education became imbedded in the Chinese mind, after the failure of the hundreds of Chinese students in France to qualify as part time workers in industrial plants, owing to lack of preparation and ability. Courses for vocational and industrial education in the majority of Government and other schools resulted, and an impetus was given to the establishment of industrial and vocational schools and institutions in China. It is thought these will in time supercede the old methods of apprenticeship which have practically failed owing to the industrial instability of child labor.

The first plans for the Shanghai Institution had their inception in the minds of the members of the Chouwei Guild some four or five years ago. The need of more skilful and intelligent workmen in their cotton mills and other factories, and the numbers of poor Chinese who were unable to give their children a suitable education, decided them to start subscriptions among their members for the establishment and continuance of an institution where poor boys could be educated to become skilled mechanics and laborers.

Invitations have been sent to the friends of the Institution and admission will be by ticket only. Any who desire to attend the opening exercise may obtain one at the Institution, or by sending a postcard to the Secretary, Mr. C. B. Fryer, 11 Kiaochow Road.

WHEN BABY IS TROUBLED

with Constipation you will find a prompt and certain remedy in Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian specific for children's ills. They gently move the bowels, stop the pain and enable the little one quickly to fall into a sound, natural sleep.

"Until I began using Baby's Own Tablets my baby was always constipated and was restless and sleepless. I tried several medicines but they did not help her, but since using the Tablets her bowels have been quite regular and she sleeps well. My eldest child had a poor appetite, but since having given her the Tablets her appetite has improved and she has grown stronger. I would not be without the Tablets for anything," writes Mrs. Ford, 391 Colborne Street, London, Ontario, Canada.

MILLARD LAUDS DIPLOMACY OF CHINA'S ENVOYS

"As Good As Any In World," Says Publicist—On Way To Geneva

(CHINA PRESS STAFF WIRE)

Peking, May 10.—Mr. Thomas F. Millard, the authority on Chinese diplomacy, who has been visiting in Peking for the past six weeks, left this morning for New York via Shanghai. Mr. Millard is not at present doing any literary or jounalistic work, but is interesting himself in Chinese diplomacy, which, as he describes it, is at present conducted as intelligently as any diplomacy in the world, and is the one outstanding feature of Chinese governmentation.

The work of Dr. Wellington Koo, in particular, and the other Chinese representatives in the peace and post-peace diplomacy, deserves special commendation inasmuch as it has been carried on without the prestige of strong backing, but merely upon reasonableness and intellectual finesse. Mr. Millard, however, does not see any reason to fear a collapse of Chinese diplomacy in the future, in spite of its being built upon such a frail structure, inasmuch as the immense population and territory of the Chinese people remains an unescapable factor with which the nations of the world must deal.

Mr. Millard, after spending some time in America, will attend the next meeting of the League of Nations in an unofficial capacity.

FIGHTING IN SOUTH

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, May 12.—An unconfirmed report from military sources states that skirmishes have broken out between Kwangtung and Kwangsi forces near Kwongning, Funschun, Lingshan and Linshan. The Aeronautical Bureau is hastily preparing a flying corps to assist the Kwangtung troops.

The Canton newspapers have been ordered not to publish any news in connection with the movements of Kwangtung troops in the campaign against Kwangsi, under penalty of heavy fines.

Hongkong, May 12.—The new eight thousand ton steamer Helen was launched from the Kowloon docks this morning.

American Goods Fill Warehouses In Argentine Ports

(Reuter's Service)

Buenos Aires, March 15.—American merchandise that has been refused by importers because of unfavorable exchange and the slump in world prices continues to pile up on the wharves in Buenos Aires. It is now estimated that the value of the goods lying in the warehouses and on the quays amounts to $50,000,000.

The warehouses under control of the Customs House have long since overflowed to vacant lots and railway sidings, where valuable merchandise is heaped up and protected only by tarpaulins. Passenger ships that must be unloaded immediately are forced to transfer their freight to lighters, while freight ships often are forced to wait several weeks in the roads before getting a berth from which to unload. In some cases it has taken as long as six weeks to get cargo discharged.

Constantinople To Be Declared Neutral

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, May 11.—A meeting of the Allied High Commissioners, Admirals and Generals here has decided to proclaim the neutrality of Constantinople, the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles, in the Turco-Greek struggle. The Greeks will accordingly be unable to use Constantinople as their base, and will be invited to reduce their troops there to a minimum, and required to withdraw their warships outside the three-mile limit. The Greeks will thus be reduced to supplying their Brussa and Ismidt fronts solely from Zodosto.

Commons To Get Singapore Report

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—Replying in the House of Commons today to a question alleging inefficiency of the Municipal Government of Singapore, the Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Colonies, Major E. F. L. Wood, stated that the Governor, Sir Laurence Guillemard, was being asked to submit a full report on the matter.

SHENSI TUCHUN UNABLE TO FREE MISSION CAPTIVE

Mr. C. W. Stevens Being Held In Camp Of Brigand Chief On Kansu Border

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, May 12.—Tuchun Chen and Governor Liu of Shensi say they are powerless to do anything to effect the release of the English Baptist Missionary, C. W. Stevens of the China Inland Mission who was taken hostage by the bandit Kuo Chien. They assert that the bandit is beyond their control and while expressing regret over the incident say they can do nothing.

It is reported that the captive is being held in a camp of Kuo Chien on the Kansu border. The condition that Kuo Chien is said to have laid down for his release is that the tuchun shall agree to cease hostile moves against him.

The Foreign Office at Peking is making an effort to negotiate in the matter through Kansu troops stationed in the vicinity of Kuo Chien's camp.

Mr. Stevens with his wife has been stationed at the mission at Fenghsien in Shensi near the Kansu border. The first report that he had been taken captive was received in Peking in a telegram from Sianfu which was filed on May 6 last.

F. R. Myers, Missing Off Steamer Nile, Safe In Yokohama

Mr. Frank R. Myers, the passenger on the China Mail steamer Nile, who was found missing after the vessel left Yokohama about May 1, it was learned yesterday missed the departure of the Nile through a misunderstanding as to its sailing time, and is now safe in Yokohama waiting the next suitable passage.

A letter from Mr. Myers, who boarded the Nile at Shanghai, was received yesterday by Mr. F. R. Barrett, local agent for the China Mail Steamship company. Mr. Myers wrote, on May 5, that he missed the Nile owing to a misunderstanding in a telephone conversation in Yokohama as to the boat's leaving time.

Chamberlain Says Jap Pact Renewal Is To Await Parley

(Reuter's Service)

London, May 11.—Mr. Neil Maclean (Glasgow, Govan division) asked today in the House of Commons whether the Government intended to renew the Anglo-Japanese Treaty; whether the terms of the Treaty would be submitted to the House for ratification; whether the Government would insist on Japan recognising her obligations to maintain the independence and territorial integrity of Korea and China, and whether the restoration of Korea's national institutions and the cancellation of the Sino-Japanese Treaty, resulting from Japan's ultimatum to China in May, 1915, would be made conditions of the Treaty.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain replied that the question of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance would be considered at the forthcoming meeting of the Imperial Cabinet. He was unable at present to make any statement in that connection.

Commander Kenworthy (Hull, Central) asked whether there would be an opportunity for a discussion in the House before the final ratification of the Treaty, to which Mr. Chamberlain replied that he could make no pledges hampering the treaty powers of the Crown, but the Government would give information to the House as soon as it could properly do so.

GOLDEN STATE BRAND BUTTER

It is made in fifteen modern, sanitary factories from cream produced in 35 countries of California. The clean rich cream arrives from the dairies, and is weighed, sampled, and graded according to quality in spotless vats, from which it is pumped to the pasteurizing machine. By the process of pasteurization harmful germ life is destroyed and the keeping quality of the butter is prolonged. From thence the cream flows into immense vats, where it is cooled and scientifically prepared for churning.

The Yangtsze Insurance Association, Ltd.

Report for presentation to the thirty-first ordinary general meeting of shareholders to be held at the Head Office of the Association, Yangtsze Insurance Building, on Thursday, May 19, at 4:30 o'clock p.m.

Working account 1919 and Former Years.—This account shows a balance at credit of $1,902,884.42 and the Directors recommend the payment of a dividend to shareholders of 20 percent out of this account, the balance to be carried forward. The account will then stand as follows:

Dividend of 20 percent ($2.—per share)	$ 240,000.—
Balance to be carried forward	1,662,884.42
Total	$1,902,884.42

The dividend will be paid in Taels at Exchange 73. $2—per share at Ex. 73=Tls. 1.46 per share.

War Funds.—The directors recommend that, as was done last year, £1,000 should be donated to the sailors' war orphans' fund and £1,000 to the king's fund for disabled.

Working Account 1920.—The Net Premia earned during 1920, after deducting the Return Premia, Reinsurance Premia, etc. amount to $4,301,428.01 and after crediting this account with appreciation in Exchange, less depreciation in value of investments, there remains a balance of $3,580,322.16 which the directors recommend should be carried forward.

Following the precedent of last year, the directors do not recommend the payment at the present time of an Interim Dividend out of the account. They hope however to be able to declare an Interim Dividend later on in the year if they find that the estimated result of the 1920 working account justifies such payment.

Sterling Exchange.—The association's gold investments have been converted into Taels at exchange 5 2 and 123 for sterling and gold dollar investments respectively, these being the rates of exchange adopted in last year's balance sheet. If these investments in accordance with our usual practice had been converted at the rates of exchange current at December 31 last, viz: 4 1 and 72¼ the dollar figures in our balance sheet would have been considerably augmented. Your directors, however, consider it more prudent to maintain the rates of exchange adopted last year in accordance with the policy explained in last year's report and the Chairman's speech. Gold figures in working accounts and liquid gold assets have as usual been converted at the current rates of exchange for telegraphic transfer on December 31, 1920, viz: 4 1 and 72¼ for sterling and gold dollars respectively. Exchange between local dollars and Taels has been taken at 73.

Balance Sheet.—For the information of shareholdesr a balance sheet is appended showing the approximate sterling position of the Company (dollar figures being taken at the rate of three shillings and one penny per dollar).

Capital.—In accordance with the resolution passed at an extraordinary general meeting held on May 14, 1920 and confirmed at a subsequent extraordinary meeting held on May 31, 1920, the authorised capital of the association has been increased to $2,500,000—divided into 250,000 shares of $10 each. The issued capital remains at the previous figure of $1,200,000 representing 120,000 fully paid-up shares of $10 each.

Far Eastern Insurance Co., Ltd.—As explained to shareholders in a circular letter dated May 4, a tentative offer has been made to the shareholders of the above Company to purchase their shares by exchanging same partly for shares of the association and partly for cash. If this offer is ratified by the shareholders of this association and accepted by a substantial majority of the "Far Eastern" Co's shareholders the purchase will be effected by the issue of a portion of the unissued Capital and a cash payment of Tls. 5 per share.

Investments.—The value on December 31 last has been taken for all the association's investments.

Directors.—In accordance with the articles of association, Mr. John Prentice and Mr. Brodie A. Clarke retire from the board but, being eligible, offer themselves for re-election.

Auditors.—The accounts have been audited by Messrs. G. H. and N. Thomson, chartered accountants, who offer themselves for re-election.

By order of the board of directors.

T. A. CLARK,
Secretary.

Offered: 1,614,177 lbs. (about 720 tons).
Sold: 873,416 lbs. (about 389 tons).

There has practically been no change in the London market since our last report, and the tone of the market has remained steady.

The demand at this week's auctions was fair and about half of the quantity offered for sale changed hands.

Awarded Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet fetching 30½ cents marked a decline of 1½ cents; every lot except two was withdrawn.

Ribbed Smoked Sheet equal to Singapore standard found buyers at prices slightly below last week's One lot sold at 31 cents.

Only the better grades of Off Quality Sheet were wanted.

Awarded Standard First Latex Crepe changed hands at 34½. 35½ cents was, however, paid for one lot.

Crepe equal to Singapore Standard was selling from 31½ to 34 cents.

Off Color Latex met with a fair competition round about last week's prices.

Fine Brown and lower grades of Crepe were in good demand; the prices were slightly easier on the week with the exception of Fine Brown Crepe.

At the continuation this morning the demand fell off slightly, but there was no change in prices.

N. B.—The above prices for Standard Quality Sheet and Crepe are only paid for small lots at the auctions, whereas bigger quantities in the outside market generally fetch from 1 cent to 1½ above these figures.

America And Europe

THAT American business is coming more and more to realise the importance of events in Europe in their reactions in the United States is revealed by the leading article in the semi-monthly letter of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, under date of April 8. And recent cablegrams bringing news that the American government had brought pressure on the German government in order to assist the Allies in forcing Berlin to agree to the terms laid down by the Reparations Commission is further evidence of the awakening of America in this respect. Decision that Ambassadors Harvey and Wallace shall represent the United States in the deliberations of the League of Nations but emphasises the trend that leading thought in America is taking.

Discussing this matter the Guaranty Trust's letter says:

With the approach of an extra session of Congress, at which many matters of business and financial importance will be presented for consideration, the economic atmosphere has been to some extent clarified by a declaration of the new administration's attitude toward the Versailles Treaty of Peace and the League of Nations Covenant. Germany has been told frankly that she must accept responsibility for the war and that such settlement as may be made between her and this country will be predicated upon that acceptance.

At the same time the United States will not enter the League of Nations as now constituted, but may formulate a separate peace with Germany, such peace, however, to indicate very clearly this country's recognition of the interdependence of all nations and its determination to assert its utmost influence hereafter in preventing international war.

These declarations of policy, as yet not fully elaborated, are being received by the business men of the country as indications of a desire to have the major uncertainties of the present readjustment period removed as quickly as possible. It is believed that a settlement of this country's relations to the new order in Europe will go far toward stabilising world conditions, upon which a revival of industry in this country so greatly depends.

This matter of American prosperity in its relation to world affairs was emphasised recently by Francis H. Sisson, Vice-President of the Guaranty Trust Company, in an address before a Manufacturers Association, the joint meeting of the Illinois Chicago Association of Credit Men, and the Chicago Association of Commerce. Declaring that Americans are too prone to think in terms of what the United States means to the remainder of the world, he said:

"It is high time for us to realise fully what the rest of the world, and especially Europe, means to this country. We have lately put too much emphasis on our help to other nations; we need to understand that we require their assistance.

"For the first time, perhaps, our people as a whole are beginning to visualise, if not completely to comprehend, that economic conditions in Europe have their reactions here, and vice versa; that, consequently, we must think of Europe in terms of American conditions. In brief, we are just awakening to the realisation that, while we did not annex a square foot of Europe politically in the war, we annexed, almost unwittingly, a large part of that continent economically, and find now that we cannot withdraw from it, if we would, except at the sacrifice of our own prosperity—except, indeed, at the fearful cost of great economic loss here.

"The reactions here of economic disturbances in Europe are beginning to manifest themselves so plainly that every element of our body politic—the business man, the banker, the manufacturer, the farmer and the laborer—cannot fail to see and feel them. The most patent and perturbing evidence of those reactions is the present unemployment in the United States, unquestionably due in considerable degree to world-wide conditions."

TRY IT AGAIN

Here's to the chap
With the smile on his map,
Though fortune has dealt him a thunderous rap.
And knocked him clean down on the rear of his lap.
Whose only remark is, "Gee whiz,
what a slap!
I'll try it again!"

I'm there with the guy
With the gleam in his eye,
Though fate has let loose a stiff punch in the eye,
And scattered his pride all over the sky,
Whose only retort is, "Why, hang it! if I
Don't try it again!

I'm strong for the brick
With courage to stick,
Though failure has hounded him
like the Old Nick,
Who cries out at last, "Now I'm on to the trick!"
And camped on his trial when the going was thick.
"Let's try her again!"

PREPARE TO PERSPIRE

The average man is more or less physically inactive during the winter. The result is that poisons accumulate in his body, says an exchange. That is why there is much illness in the spring and a vast consumption of "spring medicine."

But there is something far more efficient and beneficial. That because it is natural. The "something" is perspiration. The perspiration ducts are the appointed channels by which the winter-accumulated poisons in the system should be expelled.

So perspire, and perspire profusely and productively. In other words, go and dig. That's perspirative and productive. It will stir your whole system up—muscles, heart, mind, liver, lungs, everything. Spring digging means summer production, and as the drops fall from your brow with them comes the poison. A cheap and effective expulsion!

"Perspire with care," though. Have a warm overcoat to put on when you have finished. Walk home briskly, and slip into a warm bath. A tablespoonful of vinegar in the water will banish all aches from your muscles, and you will be clean inside and out!

Nature has more than one sweet restorer. Sleep may come first, but perspiration is a close second.

"I'VE ANANIAS BEATEN"

Mr. J. W. Davis, the retiring American Ambassador, recently told an amusing after-dinner story concerning one of his countrymen who entered a train carrying a large and varied assortment of fishing tackle.

There was one other man in the carriage. He looked up.

"Been fishing?" he inquired.

"Sure thing. Just come from Massachusetts."

The other man raised his eyebrows. "But it's the close season for fishing there," said he.

"Oh, I never worry about that," was the answer. "I go just the same, and I get trout that size. Huge fellows." He indicated a size.

"Yes, that's all very well," said the other. "But do you know who I am?"

"No."

"I'm the game steward of Massachusetts."

"Indeed? And do you know who I am?"

"Can't say I do."

"Well, I'm the biggest liar in America."

MORE SUPERSTITIONS

Most of us have some pet superstition.

Ask the man who says he isn't superstitious to spill the salt, walk under a ladder, smash a mirror, open an umbrella indoors, get out of bed with the left foot first, kick a black cat, or start a new business on a Friday. He'll probably gasp and shudder like a jelly-fish in a thunderstorm!

Friday is considered an unlucky day because for centuries it was the day chosen for public executions.

The idea that it is unlucky to walk under a ladder has its origin in the remembrance of the ladder used at Calvary, while the dislike to the number "13" can be traced to the number present at the Last Supper.

Here, too, we get the origin of the belief that ill-luck is sure to follow the spilling of salt. It will be remembered by those familiar with da Vinci's famous painting of "The Last Supper" that Judas is shown upsetting the salt.

The proverb that to "help a person to salt" is to "help him to sorrow" probably had its birth in the fear of accidental spilling.

Until recent years the umbrella was a distinctive badge of monarchs and nobles, and today the King of Siam bears as one of his titles, "Lord of the Tent House and Umbrellas." For anyone to open an umbrella in the house of the mighty was regarded as an assumption of royal prerogative—a violation of etiquette which would get the offender into serious trouble. In other words, it was very unlucky for him!

If you wish to have a lucky day, take care to place the right foot on the floor first when getting out of bed. This is necessary, the superstitious will tell you, because if the right foot is right the left must be wrong.

Again, by smashing a mirror you destroy your reflected image. A death will follow, declare the timid. It usually does, sooner or later, even when a mirror is not smashed.

So much for unlucky omens. Their sinister influence is easily counteracted by the lucky ones!

Try black cats, for instance, if you want to prosper. The Ancient Egyptians worshipped them. They honored all cats, but particularly black ones. Embalmed and mummified specimens have often been found. And don't forget when a new moon appears to turn the money in your pocket. The belief in this custom is a relic of that most ancient of all forms of religion—moon worship.

Another lucky custom is that of throwing an old shoe after a bride and bridegroom. Among the laws and ordinances given in the book of Deuteronomy, the removal of the shoe marks the winding up of negotiations, while in Anglo-Saxon marriages the bride's father delivered her shoe to the bridegroom, who touched her on the head with it in token of his authority.

The popularity of June as a month for marriage is inherited from the Greeks and Romans. The goddess Juno, to whom the month was dedicated, was the patroness of marriage. The discrimination between May and June had its origin in the fact that while Juno was the lawful wife of Jupiter, the goddess Maia was only Jupiter's affinity.

Horse-shoes are supposed to bring good luck because they represent, according to old Druidical ideas, a sacred circle open to the lucky finder.

See a pin and pick it up,
All the day you'll have good luck.

runs an old couplet voicing a superstition founded on a psychological fact. If the mind is so alert and active that the eye perceives so small an object as a dropped pin, it will naturally follow that such a man will, as a rule, accomplish a successful day's work.

The Art Of Keeping A Dependent On $200

By Ring Lardner

The ides of March is at hand, which the sooth-sayer once told Caesar to beware of them on acct. of it being the date when you half to give the infernal revenue collector the 1st hundred thousand and pretty nearly every place I been lately people was disgusting their income tax though as near as I could make out nobody enjoyed the conversation, but the worst crabs of all is the fathers of a family that seems to think the govt. hasn't gave them a square deal in regards to personal exemption for same.

Well they's some cheap skates that is always finding fault with the govt. for one thing another and the best way to do with them would be load them in a mud skow and send them to Russia partial post, but I want to take this occasion to say to some of my more reasonable fellow parents that the govt. has been more than generous provided the father of the family is a business man and runs his household on a budget system of some kind.

The rules of the tax is that for every wife you got living with you, you can take $1,000 off of your taxable income and $200 apiece for all the dependents you got under 18 yrs. of old, or if they are mentally defective it don't make no differents in regards to their age.

Well in the 1st. place let us say you have got a normal son 17 yrs. old which nothing is the matter with him. Well a boy this age should ought to be in school so he has got to have clothes to go in. Well here is a list of what he needs per annum and the cost of same if you know where to buy:

1 pr. shoes	$10.00
1 suit clothes	25.00
1 overcoat	25.00
1 pr. socks	.50
1 suit underwear	1.50
1 hat	2.00
1 shirt	2.50
1 tie	.50
1 collar	.25
1 nightgown	1.50
Total	$68.75

Add $10.00 per annum for school books and you have got a total of $78.75 which you subtract away from $200 and it leaves $121.25 per annum to feed him with or about $.33 per day, which is more than ample, as a boy that age ain't generally very hungry. Still and all its the custom to give them 3 meals per day so I have made out the following menu:

BREAKFAST

½ egg, toast, cereal ..... .06

LUNCHEON

1 bowl soup, bread and butter, 1 glass water ..... .06

DINNER

Meat, potatoes, vegetable, dessert ..... .20

This amounts up to only $.32 a day and leaves the young man $.01 per day for spending money, but if he is a chip off of the old block he will save this up for a yr., when he will have $3.65 in one lump and can give his girl a theater party provided she don't mind climing a few flights.

In order for the kid to get along on one complete outfit of wearing apparell like listed above, it may be nessary for him to spend one day per wk. in the hay while the old lady is creasing his pants and dusing off his shirt, collar, underclothes and etc. If the mother is a church goes she won't have time to do this on the Sabbath, so it looks like the best day for the boy to not get up would be Saturday when they's generally always no school and besides, a boy that is allowed outdoors Saturday is libel to get into mischief.

If the 17 yr., old dependent is a gal of the opp. sex the expense of her clothes will be about $3 less per annum because she can probably get a dress suitable for all the yr. around for $18 where the boy's suit costs $25, but on the other hand the gal's hat will set you back a 5 spot and the things you don't see on her costs say $1 more than the boy's unmentionables, as undershirt and drawers are sometimes so aptly called. But while a gal's attire may be cheaper the $.01 per day allowance for spending money won't hardly keep her in tobacco of all kinds and the wise father will bring her home any 2d. hand cigarettes and etc. he picks up during the day.

Of course if the dependent is mentally defective you won't need no $200 or nowheres near such an amt. to keep him going. Take a old piece of leather and cup it up to different shapes to make it look like different kinds of meat.

Then when you serve one of the pieces to him at a meal, say. "The mutton ain't done tonight," or, "This steak is tough."

5 different pieces of leather will last him a yr. and he will think they's plenty of variety if you call it enough different names, and if he hollers for fish once in a wile, why stick a few pins in a piece of old sole leather and tell him to look out for bones.

As far as his clothes is concerned, rap him up in a piece of cheese cloth and tell him he's Cleopatra.

Next to a mental defective the easiest kind of a dependent to support is a man or woman under 2 yrs. of old. Their milk bill will run up to $70 per annum and a baby carriage costs $45, but it's cheaper than hireing a taxi every time the kid wants to go any place. This leaves $115 a yr. or $.23 per day to raise h—ll with and most of the kids I know can do it for nothing.

A man won't have no difficulty keeping a wife on $1,000 per yr. unlest he allows her to run a charge acct. somewheres. When a woman can tell them to charge it, she will buy all the junk in the store but if you give a gal cash money and say, "This is your own," she will hold onto it like it was a library book.

The madam's fed bag is what costs the most and the only way to keep her from eating up 5 or $600 per annum is to every once in a wile call her fatty in a jokeing way.

Jim Morse

Jim Morse, Gold-Hunter. By J. Allan Dunn. Boston: Small, Maynard and Co.

Jim Morse is a lad in his teens who loves adventure and is also athletic and brave. He goes into the wilds of New Guinea on a gold-hunting expedition, in company with a rugged old sailor commanding a small vessel, Captain Burr. As in other yarns of the South Seas by this author, we obtain an intimate view of many strange races of dark-skinned folk, presented by one who has seen personally what he describes. There are head-hunters, Papuan dwarfs—who are among the most dangerous of the tribs encountered by the adventurers in this book, for they use poisoned darts with their blowpipes and are fearless in battle—also weird medicine men, a great deal about the tabu, and over all the miasmatic vapors that threaten white life at all hours of the day and night.

Captain Burr has heard that gold is to be found in a remote region where the Karon tribe jealously guard their territory. It is almost certain death to go there. Nevertheless Burr and Jim Morse, with some friendly natives, explore the region, find the gold and rescue a white girl of 15 who has been a prisoner from babyhood, having been saved from a wrecked schooner after all other whites aboard, including her mother, had been massacred. The narrative pulsates with action. It has so many thrills that it cannot but appeal to the boys for whom it is obviously written. Moreover, it is so full of information about a part of the world none too well known that it will be worth the while of grown people to read it too.

Mr. Dunn is thoroughly at home in work of this kind. His character drawing is excellent. The hero is a manly chap who commands admiration and affection from the first, while the gigantic black man, Afua, who loves Captain Burr with such fervent devotion, is a striking figure. This volume is one of a series by the author treating of New Guinea and adjacent islands in Polynesia, and is fully up to the high standard set by his previous stories.

Stories Of The Famous

Montezuma, Emperor of the ancient Mexicans, lived in a state of luxurious magnificence, and took no other beverage than the chocolat, a potation of chocolate, flavored with vanilla and other spices, and so prepared as to be reduced to a froth of the consistency of honey, which gradually dissolved in the mouth and was taken cold.

This beverage, if so it could be called, was served in golden goblets, with spoons of the same metal or tortoise-shell finely wrought. The Emperor was exceedingly fond of it, to judge from the quantity—no less than fifty jars or pitchers being prepared for his own daily consumption. Two thousand more were allowed for that of his household.

Tuberculosis Warnings

BY BRICE BELDEN, M. D.

The germ of tuberculosis is a very common one and we are nearly all of us slightly infected with it during some time of our lives. Whether we can overcome it or not depends on our own particular vital resistance. If our resistance is good we overcome with considerable ease the few germs which may have entered the system and there are no ill effects.

In the cases in which the germ succeeds in actually infecting the system the disease may often be overcome before any great damage is done, provided that the resisting powers are properly augmented.

In those cases which do not resist the disease there may have been an overwhelming number of these particular germs breathed or otherwise taken in or the vital resistance may have been lowered. Resistance to tuberculosis may be lowered by the after of previous illnesses or the lowering may be the result of bad living conditions and unhygienic habits, such as eating an insufficient amount of food.

All intemperate habits which tend to break down the general health will encourage tuberculosis, and unhygienic living quarters, overheated rooms in particular, also invite this dread disease. Certain occupations in which the workers breathe in small dust particules show a marked tendency to cause tuberculosis.

Lack of fresh air and sunlight are as important causes of the disease as malnutrition. Malnutrition is especially invited by defective teeth and mouth breathing even if the food is of good quantity and quality.

All those who have not learned the importance of proper ventilation are in danger, and also those who for one reason or another are not regulating their diet properly Run-down people should learn the caloric values of foods and everyone should keep his or her windows open at night all the year round.

Dew And The Dewdrop

More dew is deposited on cultivated than on uncultivated land.

Dew will not stay on rose leaves, because these have an essential oil in them.

Dew rolls off cabbage and like leaves, because they are coated with a fine waxen powder.

The Restful Home

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH

"Really," said the trained nurse, "there must be a lot of love left in this world yet—or is it a sense of duty that brings a man home after his day's work to some of the unclean, unsanitary, untidy homes I come upon in the course of my work?"

Generally speaking, we have too much in our homes. The logical thing to do, if you know the limit of your strength, is to start your Spring housecleaning by eliminating many of the objects for which you have no use.

Some do not rid their homes of certain articles for which they have no further use because they feel that that would be wasteful. But is it? Considering it in the large, isn't it more wasteful to keep a thing out of use than to sell it or give it away where it might serve some real purpose?

Do the carpets or rugs need cleaning? Get an estimate from several reliable firms before placing your order.

Plan every detail of the cleaning operation and then work intensely, doing one room at a time.

Soap and water is the general clean-all. Small quantities of washing soda are a great aid if well diluted in water before being added to the cleaning water.

Are you acquainted with whiting? It is very cheap and has so many uses in the household that every housewife should be acquainted with it. You may purchase five or ten cents' worth. Mixed to a paste with water, you may spread it over the window-glass or silverware or white-painted woodwork. When dry remove it with a dry cloth.

Kerosene is excellent for removing grease and dirt from the bathtub or white porcelain sink. A few drops of kerosene on a flannel cloth will brighten zinc.

When washing oilcloth add a cupful of skimmed milk to a gallon of water. This preserves oilcloth decidedly.

Try to make your home a restful home.
